

Breaking news: The Green Bay Water Utility just WON the annual "Wisconsin's Best Tasting Water Competition!"

The blind taste test is part of the Wisconsin Section of the American Water Works Association (WIAWWA) Annual Conference and Expo being held this week at Monona Terrace. Judges sampled tap water brought to Madison from 11 different competitors around the state. They carefully examined the taste, smell, and appearance of each entry, and GBWU's water came out on top. This is the 31st year of the competition. This is GBWU's 1st win, and we are THRILLED!
